Washington, Aug. 27.—The purchase by Truman H., Newberry of Detroit, who will succeed Judge Charles H. Darling as Assistant Secretary of the Navy, of a handsome Washington residence is believed to signify that Mr. Newberry will not remain as Assistant Secretary long, but will be elevated to a Cabinet position by President Roosevelt at the first opportunity. It has already been suggested that Mr. Newberry will become Postmuster General in the event that Mr. Cortelyou is made Secretary of the Treasury to succeed Secretary Slaw, who will retire from the Cabinet in February, 1986. It is not known, however, that Mr. Cortelyou will go to the Treasury. That President Roesevelt would be glad to have him there is unquestioned.

A. A. McNeill, one of the largest merchants in the colton-growing center of Texas, predicts that there will be a shortage of near; your million bales of cotton in the Lone Star State this season, owing to the prevailing drought throughout that State.

Mr. McNeill arrived at Hotel Jefferson yesterday from his home. Valley Mills, Tex., accompanied by several other Texas merchants. They came to St. Louis to make their annual purchases. In discussing the cotton and other crop outlook in Texas, Mr. McNeill said:

"Heavy rains in the early season and the recent drought in our State have played their part in lessening the crop output. The incessant rains some weeks ago had a tendency to damage wheat considerably. It deadened the young cereal when it was blooming. Now the crop shows the il! effects occasioned by the constant downpour that visited Texas at that time.

"The corn crop also suffered. An aver-

Denby, who to-night is rapidly sinking, says that the weapon with which he was wounded was discharged through a hole in a side door as he knocked at another entrance, in accordance with an agreement which he says he had made with Mrs. Easton in the afternoon.

months, and it is proceed that a consideration of specialists in nervous diseases from this city will be called to investigate the case.

According to the mother of the boy, he was apparently healthy on April 6, last, when he went out to play in the street. While whirling around a iamppost he hecame disay, fell to the gorund and struck the back of his head. He seemed to recover, however, and nothing unusual developed until two days later. He then compained of pains in the head, and within a few minutes lapsed into a state of unconsciousness, from which he has not since awakened. It was pronounced to be a case of cerebro-spinal meningitis.

A little while before the boy was stricken he weighed seventy-eight pounds, out to-day he is almost a skeleton. At first he whs fed by injections of liquid food, but when the first ravages of meningitis had passed and his throat resumed its swallowing functions, liquids were noured into his mouth in small quantities, sustaining life.

Discussing the case to-day, several physicians said the case was a puzzling study. All sensibility is lost, the general vitalify in at a low ebb, the respiration is reduced and the temperature is subnormal.

Other remarkable cases of the kind are on record, out they are still as mysterious as the present one. The most astonishing is that of Marguerite Boyenval, a peasant of Thonelles, near St. Quentin. France, who is said to have remained in a cataleptic state twenty years.
